

Curriculum Unit Writers*

*

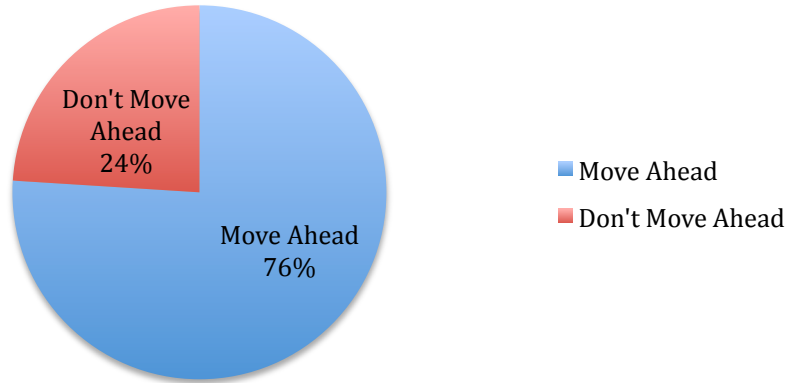

Pacing Guide Followers*

* Those who have completed the actual curriculum units; those who followed the pacing guides are those teachers who have been teaching using that time frame as a guide throughout the school year.

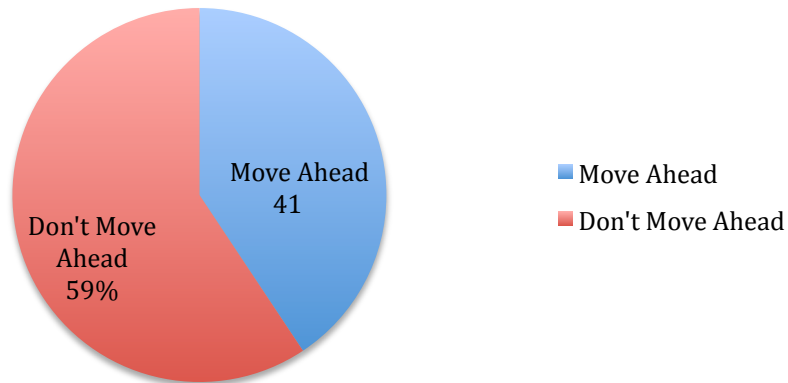

As you can see, 61% of those who are writing the curriculum want to begin implementation in January, and 56% of those who are not writers, but have been following the pacing guide want to proceed in January.

Both*

*If teachers are both writers and are following the pacing guide, 76% of them want to begin in January rather than waiting until the next school year.

None of the Above

Those that have not been involved with the curriculum either as writers or in teaching from the pacing guide are more reluctant to move ahead.